When a buyer believes that he has sustained damage by the failure of agricultural seed to produce or perform as represented by the labeling of the seed, he initiates the arbitration process by filing a written notice of intent to seek arbitration. This must be done within a reasonable time after the alleged defect or violation becomes apparent so as to permit inspection of the crops or plants during the growing season.

Within 10 working days after receiving the written notice of intent, the Plant Board Director or his designee will schedule a meeting between the buyer and labeler for the purpose of resolving the dispute, or if the dispute cannot be resolved, for the purpose of filing a complaint.
